The Kings County Board of Education and the Kings County Superintendent of Schools recognize their responsibility to protect the health of students, and that some students served by the County Office of Education require specialized physical attention, and additionally are among a population of severely handicapped students subject to added risk for infectious diseases. Therefore, appropriate health care professionals employed by this office working with staff and students of the severely handicapped population shall utilize "Guidelines and Procedures For Meeting The Specialized Physical Health Care Needs of Pupils", published by the California Department of Education (1990 or subsequent additions), as document for staff inserviceing and practical procedural applications.
